In line with ERASMUS+ Visual Guidelines, ERASMUS+ Communication Strategy, How to communicate YOUR PROJECT - A step-by-step guide on communicating projects and their results, Grant Agreement - 101052106-SEEDS and Cooperation Agreement for project 101052106-SEEDS, the “SEEDing Successful young female entrepreneurs for a green world by regenerative agriculture - SEEDS” project has to ensure transparency and inform the public of the actions of the project.

In this regard, dissemination and exploitation of results are crucial areas for the SEEDS project lifecycle, giving to participating organisations the opportunity to communicate between them and share outcomes and deliverables and outside of the consortium, thus extending the impact of our projects, improving the SEEDS project sustainability and justifying the European added value.

SEEDS website consists the most important dissemination gate for the general public/Youth and for the consortium. The website contains the description of the project (objectives, structure, innovations, partnership, Living Lab, Business Plan Development tool, etc.) and will be updated regularly with results and outputs of the project, as well as with news, events, press releases and articles.

SEEDS website ensures the information exchange flow, providing a quick and easy way of communicating information between all involved stakeholders. By publishing in real time activities, actions, all the project outcomes in order of their succession will ensure also a strong increased credibility.

On another hand, SEEDS website will incorporate a portal with Open Education Resource containing a course of Agriculture 4.0, with interactive multilingual training modules and professionalized organic agriculture methods, introducing notions about Regenerative Agriculture and Organic Farming, Fair Trade principles, Innovations in Healthy Food and Food Production, Healthy Farming and Agriculture Renewable Energy Sources Solutions to Youth and organizations working with Youth.

This tool make dissemination to have a European dimension, even more.
