Experimental RE-GEN Entrepreneurs Incubator Build-UP

The Experimental Entrepreneurs Incubator is a pilot initiative able to put in practice the acquired skills during the training, supply Healthy Food to poor communities with limited possibilities and providing continuous data related to specific indicators of Climate and Crops Characteristics. On the other hand will give the opportunity to share regenerative agrofood knowledge and to promote free exchange of information.

Organising living labs in Tunisia and Morocco .

Living Labs organised in Tunisia and Morocco are strongly related to the fact that MENA is the most water-scarce and dry region worldwide, many countries across the region, especially those around the Mediterranean Sea, are highly dependent on agriculture. For example, the Oum Er Rbia River basin contains half of Morocco's public irrigated agriculture and produces 60 percent of its sugar beets, 40 percent of its olives, and 40 percent of its milk.

Organising trainings in Jordan and Egypt

There will be organised trainings in Jordan and Egypt, based on the materials developed in the WP3 and WP4, contributing to the development of small businesses ran mostly by the young ladies in agriculture and will help young people to modernize their farms by giving them the knowledge and the skills necessary to design and to make their own farm equipment that uses renewable and free energy sources.
